

Volunteer Spotlight

Tiffany R. began volunteering with Soft Landings Parrot Rescue in January 2016. She has been the force behind our community micro-chip events in Tulsa and Oklahoma City; has spent time making chop; caring for and loving on many of the birds in our care; as well as stepping up to help with fundraising as our Fundraiser Coordinator.

Here is what she has to say about her time volunteering with Soft Landings.

“I really enjoy volunteering at Soft Landings. It feels good to give back. The longer I volunteer though, the more I realize that we are only scratching the surface of what needs to be done. I was lucky to be able to attend a conference with the Parrot Conservation Alliance and get a tangible idea of what I can help with to make the rescue more successful.

Soft Landings Parrot Rescue needs more than just volunteers to clean cages; it needs people that will partner with it to start laying literal, physical foundations for the future. Future steps for the rescue include tapping into the passions and talents of each individual involved in order to move onto the next stage- securing land and building a facility.”
